

Empowering Women for the Future!

Third Annual International Women's Day Event

Thursday, March 8, 2018 12 Noon - 3:30 pm at The Commonwealth Club
110 The Embarcadero (@ Mission), San Francisco

The Bay Area Financial Education Foundation (BAFEF) and Network for Teaching Entrepreneurship (NFTE) are proud to present the third annual “Empowering Women For The Future” – a volunteer event celebrating International Women's Day, where local women in finance will spend an afternoon mentoring Bay Area middle and high school girls participating in NFTE's enrichment programs. The event is supported by our allied organizations including 100 Women in Finance, CFA Society San Francisco's Women's Initiative Network and the Financial Women of San Francisco.

The event kicks off with a luncheon and speakers Janeth Medina and Carissa Weir, both past recipients of a Financial Women of San Francisco (FWSF) Scholarship, and are active members of FWSF. Janeth currently serves on the FWSF Board of Directors. Following lunch, volunteers will be paired with students for mentoring/coaching in a structured format, guided by NFTE teachers. The event will wrap up with sharing by the students and expressions of gratitude!

HOW YOU CAN HELP EMPOWER WOMEN FOR THE FUTURE

VOLUNTEERS are needed to participate! Professional women in the financial services industry are strongly encouraged to attend!

Janeth Medina is a Corporate Development Analyst at Bank of the West where she develops strategic business cases for business lines to improve the growth and profitability of their businesses. In her role, Janeth also provides program management support for major bank-wide transformation initiatives focusing on the corporate strategy of the Bank. Janeth became a member of the FWSF in 2013 after being awarded a FWSF graduate scholarship. She served as a Mills College Team Lead for three years and is currently a board member and the Scholarship Program co-chair. She has an MBA and a BA in Political, Legal and Economic Analysis from Mills College.

Born in Jamaica, Carissa Weir spent some of her childhood in England, and her teenage years in the U.S. Currently, she is pursuing an MBA in Finance at the Lorry I. Lokey School of Business and Public Policy at Mills College. Carissa is an environmental technician for a consulting firm, and has served as a volunteer and board member at YEAH! Berkeley. Post-MBA, she is looking forward to a stimulating career in finance, as well as the materialization of business ventures to benefit her family in Jamaica. She is a film fanatic and a foodie who dreams of traveling the world.
